Combating Human Trafficking in the 117th Congress

Join members of the Alliance to End Slavery and Trafficking (ATEST) and leaders from the Congressional Human Trafficking Caucus and the Senate Caucus to End Human Trafficking for a virtual briefing and discussion about initiatives to combat human trafficking during the 117th Congress.

The Trafficking Victims Protection Act (TVPA) is up for reauthorization this year. The COVID-19 pandemic has created new stresses on federal programs that fight human trafficking and address its root causes.

What changes are needed to make America's landmark anti-trafficking law even stronger? How can anti-trafficking appropriations be bolstered to meet the magnitude of the moment?

Join this critical and timely conversation with human rights experts, human trafficking survivor leaders, and members from the House and Senate Human Trafficking Caucuses.
